Patron Helen Stanwell spoke on behalf of a group called, “Open our Libraries Now.” She stated that she would like the libraries returned to their pre-pandemic hours. She said that other county library systems such as Timberlake and Sno-Isle have returned to normal operating hours and she sees no reason for KCLS to continue to operate with shortened hours.

STAFF REPORTS
Health and Social Services Coordinator Melissa Glenn gave an overview of the Peers in Libraries program. Through a partnership with Peer Kent and with funding from the KCLS Foundation and King County Health Care for the Homeless Network, KCLS has contracted to provide three Peer Services Specialists at the Kent, Renton, Federal Way and Bellevue libraries. Peer Services Specialists are individuals with lived experience of mental or medical illness, substance abuse, homelessness and/or involvement with the criminal justice system. Now on a path to recovery they draw on their experience and professional training to assist community members in identifying and achieving wellness goals, often by connecting them with appropriate community resources or services.

Diversity, Equity and Inclusion (DEI) Director Dominica Myers gave an update on the extensive DEI assessment her team is currently conducting. This multi-faceted assessment is being done with the help of outside consultants and a project team of 30 staff members from across the System. It includes internal and external data gathering and analysis. Internally, there have been staff surveys, policy reviews and detailed interview sessions with key staff and work groups at all 50 library locations. Externally, there has been a community demographics and languages analysis, community partner surveys and targeted interviews. The final deliverables include an assessment report with recommendations, and customized DEI work plans for each department and library.

Finance Director Nicholas Lee gave an update as of the end of April 2022. Year-to-date (YTD) revenues were $58.6M which were slightly higher than the budget target of $57.2M. YTD expenses of $38M were lower than budget projections of $44M. CIP expenses of $1.8M were also lower than projections by approximately $200K.
